GERMAN-SOVIET PACT AROUSES EDITORS' IRE

English Newspaper Men See Menace in Rapallo Treaty.

Paris Editors Chuckle Over Lloyd George's Predicament.

London, April 18—It would not be easy to imagine any possible happening at Genoa which could excite greater astonishment or more misgiving than the announcement of the Russo German treaty produced in the majority of this morning's London newspapers

With one or two exceptions the new pact is condemned in the strongest language as a deadly blow aimed at the conference, at the Versailles treaty and at the peace of Europe, and its negotiators are charged with complicity and bad faith The Times says

"It is an open defiance and a studied insult to the entente powers who summoned the conference, and in a less degree to all who were invited to attend it The German pretense that the choice of time and place for the signature was without significance is pure impertinence 'Russia for the Bolshevists and the Bolshevists for us,' has been the basis of the German policy ever since the German government sent Lenine across the frontier with the deliberate intention that he should poison the whole social organism of Russia.

"With the resources and manpower of Russia under her control she would be able at her pleasure to pronounce the treaty of Versailles a scrap of paper and visit western Europe again with the terrors inseparable from her resurrection as a militarist state

"It is earnestly to be hoped that the entente powers especially England and France, will seize the earliest possible moment to take up the challenge so boldly thrown down and teach the Germans and Bolshevists alike that the allies are not to be defied and flouted with impunity If the challenge is not taken up promptly and firmly, there is an end to the entente"

The Daily Telegraph thinks it is obvious intention of the Russians to force the powers to grant the recognition on the same full scale as is accorded by by Germany

Says the Morning Post "Germany and Bolshevist Russia have won a brilliant diplomatic victory The treaty is an intimation to the allies that Germany and Russia have regained complete diplomatic freedom and are ready to use that freedom to make arrangements entirely in the treaty of Versailles or any other allied settled

"The one real menace to the peace of Europe is the combination of Russia and Germany Once started on a policy of economic cooperation, there is no saying to what political and indeed military agreement the two countries may not ultimately reach

The newspaper urges Great Britain and France speedily to end their differences an to reach a complete understanding," which alone can maintain peace in Europe, for if they remain divided the new treaty becomes a menace pregnant with war"

The Westminster Gazette, contends that the treaty profoundly modifies the European situation and entirely changes the basis of the Genoa conferees' deliberations, cutting much of the ground of their discussions from under their feet

The Daily Mail says "The trick which the Germans and Russians have sprung on the allies will not surprise those who know the ways of the Boche and Bolshevik" but reserves its severest strictures for the leaders of the conference who it declares failed to take "their most infantile precautions to guard against the notorious manoeuver to set the allies by the ears" It expresses special indignation at "the fatuous want of provision on the part of British diplomacy"

On the other hand, the Daily Chronicle staunch advocate of Mr Lloyd George, refused to be disturbed

The newspaper is not dismayed by the restoration of diplomatic and consular relations between Russia and Germany while it maintains that the mutual cancellation of financial claims "seems the only obvious course where both parties are insolvent" and contends that the most favored nation clause, inasmuch as it prejudices no other nation's claims, is not out of keeping with the ideals of the Genoa conference

FRANCE IS IN LESS HUMILIATING POSITION

Paris April 18—The dramatic stroke of the Russians and Germans in concluding their treaty at Rapallo the news of which, incidentally first reached Paris by way of New York, does not fill the French with consternation

Instead, there is a perceptible feeling almost of satisfaction among the newspapers supporting the national bloc at which they consider a distinct hit against Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain and at the same time the "clumsy blunder of German psychologely," which, as M. Saint Brice puts it in the Journal, "will perhaps pull out of the Genoa wasps nest"

"Mr. Lloyd George never thought, when he admitted the Berlin and Moscow people on an equal footing," the Journal's editor continues, "that they might interfere with his manoeuvres.

"He counted with his hosts The Germans and Russians have just proved it to him by concluding behind his back an agreement which they certainly think very smart, but which might very well 'spill the beans.'"

The Figar, more nationalist than the Journal, thinks Louis Barthou, head of the French Genoa delegates discussed what was coming and wished to take precautions at his first encounter with M Chitcherin, head of the Soviet delegation

Alfred Capus, the editor says "the comedy put on by the Soviet places France in a less humiliating position than the other European nations"

The Excelsior owned by Senator Dupuy, is less optimistic Remarking that Genoa delegates showed surprise when news of the signing of the treaty became known, the newspaper adds "but will that indignation last."

PILOTS START LONG FLIGHT

Third Leg of Trans-Atlantic Flight Takes Them Over 900 Miles Of Water.

Porto Praya, Cape Verde Islands April 18—The Portugese trans Atlantic aviators, Captains Coutinho and Cadura, hopped off at 5 50 this morning for St Paul Rocks on the third and probably the most dangerous leg of their flight from Lisbon to Rio Janerio

Their route lay over 900 miles of water devoid of markers or guide ships and they expected to reach the Rocks in mid Atlantic, in from 10 to 12 hours' flying.

The landing at St Paul Rocks is expected to be difficult as there is only a small bay or opening between the two Islets on the northeast side This bay or cove is only 56 yards across at the entrance and one hundred yards long and presents some difficulties, even to vessels except in the most moderate weather

The seaplane is awaited at the rocks by the Portugese cruiser Republica, which is carrying a supply of gasoline and oil and which will broadcast the news of the aviators' arrival

From St Paul Rocks the airmen plan to fly to the Island of Fernando Noronha, approximately 350 miles off the Brazilian coast and from there to Pernambuco

COLUMBUS BANK AGAIN ROBBED

Three Armed Negroes Hold Up Cashier of Steelton Bank and Escape With $3500.

Columbus, April 18—Three armed negroes, one of them masked, this morning entered the Steelton branch of the Citizens Trust and Savings bank in South Parsons avenue and held up Cashier W. H Todd escaping with $3,500 in cash, $400 of which was in silver.

According to Cashier Todd, one of the negroes stuck a revolver through the window of his cage, forcing him to throw up his hands, while the other two negroes grabbed the available money. The three negroes then backed out of the bank, got into a sedan automobile and drove rapidly away.

This was the second time in six months that the Steelton branch of the Citizens Trust and Savings bank has been held up. On December 21, a band of bandits who are now serving sentences in the Ohio penitentiary robbed the bank of $7,000 in cash and securities

Until an accurate check of securities is made, bank officials said they could not say exactly how much was obtained in today's robbery but they said the amount probably would be between $5,000 and $6,000

Use Smudge Pots Tonight To Save Fruit, Tabor Urges

Columbus, April 18—A heavy frost which may be 'killing' in the lower sections, was predicted for Ohio for tonight by the United States weather bureau today Slowly rising temperatures, are promised for tomorrow

The weather bureau warned fruit growers that extreme care should be taken tonight to protect their trees and that if possible smudge pots should be used

Advised of the weather bureau's prediction for a heavy frost for tonight, L J Taber state director of agriculture said today that farmers and fruit growers of Ohio proably could save themselves thousands of dollars by the judicious use of smudge pots and fires tonight should the weather appear threatening

"Farmers having smudge pots should use them tonight by all means," said Mr. Taber Fruit growers and farmers who are not equipped with smudge pots may find value of the fire, bank with wet straw or damp manure, the idea being to get heavy smoke that can settle down over orchards and protect them from the frost"

"Don't start smudge fires too early," warned Mr Taber The thermometer should be watched and the fires should be started when the temperature goes below 35 degrees Too many fruit growers and farmers start their fires, and go to bed and the fires die down shortly before sun up, when most heavy frosts come However smudge fires are of little value when there is wind as the smoke is blown away and the protecting warmth from the early is allow to escape"

Director Taber said that the prospects hove been for a bumper fruit crop in Ohio this year 'Seldom have the prospects been better" he said

50 ARE KILLED IN WIND STORM REPORTS SHOW

Illinois and Indiana Suffer Most From Wind And Rain.

Restoration of Telephones May Reveal Even Worse Condition.

Chicago, April 18—Sweeping northeastward through the middle western states, a storm which had its origin in the Rocky Mountain region Sunday, has passed over Ohio, today leaving in its wake death and much destruction. A loss of nearly 50 lives was attributed to the storm which developed considerable energy as it progressed over Illinois and Indiana, taking in many places the form of tornadoes Damage to property will mount into millions, it is beheved.

Accompanied by rains which sent streams, then swollen, coursing far beyond their usual channels, the storm brought added suffering and inconveniences to some communities which for several days have been affected by flood conditions.

A drop in the temperature to below the seasonal normal added to the discomfort of families whose homes had been destroyed by wind or made uninhabitable by flood, and who are now living in tents or improvised shelters

Indiana apparently felt the full effect of the wind storms yesterday In that state 21 persons are known to have met death in different communities Early yesterday morning the storm centered in Illinois Striking a number of villages in the darkness tornadoes wrought havoc to many homes and such reports as were available from agricultural communities which had been stripped of nearly all means of communication indicated that 22 persons had been killed

Missouri, Illinois and Kansas were visited by the storm early Sunday In these states it lacked the intensity which marked its sweep across Illinois and Indiana and into Ohio

As it passed over Indiana there were two distinct tornado belts The one in the southern part suffered some damage but across the northern part of the state there was a wind swept strip in which the loss of life was heavy. Warren county, in the western part of the state, reported a loss of 12 lives Four met death in Madison county in the central portion of the state.

The death toll was greatest in central Illinois The villages of Irvington and Plainfield near Centralia were badly wrecked and several persons were killed Other fatalities in this state were in small rural communities.

Wires were blown down by the wind and telephone and telegraph companies hurried today to complete repairs With restored communication it was considered probable that complete reports might indicate even greater disaster than was indicated early today

OHIO COUNTIES ALL SWEPT BY HEAVY WIND

Lima, April 18—The tornado which yesterday wrought havoc in Indiana and Illinois last night worked its way into Ohio, cutting a swath through Auglaize and Allen counties, injuring three persons and doing much property damage

The tornado cut a path several hundred yards wide, passing south of Lima about 8 30 p m, and continuing in a northeasterly direction Several houses and at least 15 barns were reported demolished and some livestock was killed. Wire communication was demoralized and trees and growing crops damaged

The injured are Mrs John Van Fleet of Yoder, who was brought to a local hospital after her home had been razed by the wind and Mr and Mrs J Riley, of Buckland, a village south of here who were removed from the wreckage of their home in a serious condition Faulty telephone and telegraph communication has prevented a complete check of the damage done

GENOA ENVOYS DISCONCERTED BY NEW MOVE

Ask If Rapallo Pact Is Violation of Versailles Treaty.

All Delegates Wonder What Effect of Agreement Will Be.

Paris, April 18—A Havas dispatch from Genoa this afternoon says the allies are drafting a note to the Germans and Russians notifying them it will be impossible for the Germans and Russians to continue to participate in the sessions of Russian affairs commission of the conference if they persist in maintaining the Russo German treaty

Genoa, April 18—The organizers of the Genoa conference today were attempting to grope their way out of the debris and confusion caused by the explosion of the German-Russian bombshell the secret signing of a formal peace treaty between the two nations at Rapallo, Sunday.

The judicial experts of the powers which organized the conference met to consider whether the new pact violates the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles or conflicts with the resolutions of the supreme council at Cannes on which the present conference is founded, and which all the nations coming to Genoa were expected to accept as the basis of the meeting

The experts later were to report to an assembly which included not only the chief representatives of the five inviting powers—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and Belgium—but also the leading delegates of the little entente nations, who were especially invited because of the vital character question to be dealt with, and its possible effects on central Europe

Without exception, the delegations of the 34 countries represented here are wondering what the real effect of the surprise treaty will be on the conference, the pact constitutes recognition by Germany of the Russian government—a question forming one of the chief points of the conference agenda Hence the terms "dishonorable" and "disloyal" employed by the British spokesman in referring to Germany's action, and the words of warning uttered significantly by the French that, if the conference were employed to construct secret combinations one against an other, then Genoa, instead of proving a boon, would develop as an obstacle to re-establishment of an era of confidence and peace

Despite their feelings that Germany acted behind the back of the conferees, the British delegates apparently do not forsee any danger of the conference collapsing, even though as the spokesman put it, 'Germany has broken loose from it" it was stated that after a full discussion of the treaty at Lloyd George's villa, the delegation "decided that it was exceedingly difficult to imagine any excuse for the action of the Germans"

Some of the younger members of the French delegation thought both Germany and Russia should be excluded but France's attitude will not be determined until M Barthou receives instructions from his premier.

Nothing better than this treaty could have been devised to support the French attitude toward Russia and Germany in the opinion of the Italian delegation the spokesman for which declared it "a great political mistake"

The Germans expressed surprise that the allies should resent what they called a perfectly logical outcome of negotiations previously inaugurated in Berlin Dr Rathenau declared the treaty "does not in the least interefere in the relations of Russia and Germany with any other state but simply cancels the past with regard to Germany and Russia and lays the foundation for future common reconstruction"

M Chitcherin said no especial significance should be attached to completing the treaty at the Genoa conference rather than elsewhere as it was contemplated long ago

FRENCH CABINET IS CALLED BY POINCARE

Paris, April 18—Premier Poincare assembled his cabinet today to consider the attitude to be taken by France in case Russia and Germany purpose to maintain a separate arrangement regarding the restoration of Russia It was decided to withhold announcement of the policy tentatively decided upon until receipt from Genoa of the action taken at the meeting there today of the principal delegates called to consider the treaty signed by the German and Russian delegates

While a number of the members of the cabinet are absent from Paris those present were unanimous in regarding the pact signed at Rapallo as a violation of the treaty of Versailles, as well as the conditions laid down at Cannes as a basis for the Genoa conference.

The clause mutually according most favored nation treatment was regarded as indirect opposition to the peace treaty and the new pact also was held to dispose of property in the hands of Germany over which the reparations commission has a prior lien

At the Theaters

BIG OFFERING AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

The announcement that William Harris, Jr., will send John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" with Frank McGlynn to the Auditorium theater, this evening, is one of the most pleasant promises of the year. Mr. Harris who had the courage to produce this play about the great Emancipator, written by an English poet, has refused to organize any duplicate companies and therefore, Frank McGlynn will be here in the name part with a distinguished supporting cast. Out of the grist of plays that come and go in the theater there now and again appears one which all unite in declaring is a great work. Such is John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln." Statesmen and authors, players and playwrights, critics and reporters, the men who knew Lincoln personally and those who have come to love him by reason of his greatness, all are as one in agreeing that this drama—this picture of a soul—is we thy of the man whom it brings so near to this generation. But, lest those who go to the theater in search of entertainment, be frightened, it should be understood that with all this impressive praise this play about Abraham Lincoln is entertaining and worth while seeing even if one never heard of the bero of the story. Seats are now selling.

"THE ORPHANS OF THE STORM," A BIG FEATURE.

The Auditorium theater tomorrow afternoon (one showing in the afternoon) resumes the screening of what is said to be the incomparable mighty screen epic of all time. D W. Griffith's "The Orphans of the Storm" with Lillian and Dorothy Gish and with over 5,000 in the cast

"Orphans of the Storm" adapted from the stage classic made by Kate Claxton. "The Two Orphans" represents months of preparation and a most careful study of the period depicted, the time of the French Revolution. The basis of the story is the famous old play, but Mr Griffith has woven into it a historical romance with the thrills of some of the maddest days of the revolution. The guillotine is seen at its deadly work and there are tremendous crowds of frantic men and women fighting wildly against the aristocrat in the hope of freedom.

In the role of Henriette, Lillian Gish, whose work in former Griffith productions has placed her at the forefront of screen artists, Dorothy Gish has the role of the blind girl, Louise, the other orphan. Then there is Joseph Schildkraut, said to be the handsomest actor in all Europe, and who made such a sensational success in the leading role of "Liliom" in New York. He is seen as the romantic lover of Henriette, the Chevalier de Vaudrey. Monte Blue, known to all patrons of the screen, has the role of Danton, Sidney Herbert, another artist, is the Robespierre. He was for twelve years in the famous old Augustin Daly company. Creighton Hale, who will be remembered as the butterfly professor of "Way Down East" (which by the way comes to the Auditorium theater soon) has a part and Frank Puglia is cast as Pierre. Another noted member of the cast is Kate Bruce, recalled for her work in "Hearts of the World," "Way Down East," and other Griffith productions. Frank Lossee, Catherine Emmett, Morgan Wallace, Lucille La Verne, Sheldon Lewis, Leslie King, Lee Kolmer, Adolphe Lestina, and others are in the company.

The 136 page musical score which accompanies this unusual picture is played by Sam Gelfer's super-orchestra. The management has made a change in the running of the matinee's and only one screening is given each afternoon, starting at 2 p. m. The evenings remain the same, starting at 7 p. m. and running until closing time daily. On Saturday the screenings will be continuous beginning at 1.30.

PEARL WHITE'S NEW PICTURE A SUCCESS

"Any Wife," Pearl White's latest Fox picture, scored a success at its first showing yesterday at the Alhambra theater. Its story, written by Julia Tolsva, shows the cumulative penalty paid by a wife who, giving away to a spirit of discontent with her uneventful home life, finds herself suddenly in the midst of conditions that pass from bad to worse, until she becomes overwhelmed with remorse and desperation. The situations leading up to this point are exceedingly dramatic, and the stars performance throughout is marked by a histrionic skill which readily explains the enviable place she occupies in the regard of picture goers.

This feature remains over Wednesday evening.

CLEVER STORY FOR ELSIE FERGUSON.

The Paramount picturization of Rita Weiman's story, "Footlights," starring Elsie Ferguson, which comes to the Alhambra theater beginning Thursday next, is unique in every detail. It tells of Lizzie Parson's, a New England girl, who becomes a vaudeville entertainer and impersonator.

She attracts the attention of Oswald Kane, a theatrical manager, who resolves to introduce her on the New York stge as a Russian actress. Lizzie signs a contract, which states that for ten years she is to be under his management and in that time not to reveal her identity.

Lisa Parsinova, as Lizzie is now known, makes her debut with great success. Bret Page, a wealthy New Yorker falls in love with her. There is something about his upright, big American manner that makes her hate the life she is living. She thinks Randolph is in love with the temperamental actress rather than her true self. Then follow developments of an interesting nature. Reginald Denny, leading man, heads a strong supporting cast.

BETTY COMPSON STARS IN "PRISONERS OF LOVE"

Betty Compson, who meteoric rise to stardom was the result of her remarkable portrayal of the role of the girl in the George Loane Tucker production of "The Miracle Man," makes her stellar appearance in "Prisoners of Love," which is being presented at the Grand Theater today, tomorrow and Thursday.

The picture was personally produced by Miss Compson, who is now at the head of her own company, and was directed by Arthur Rosson.

The story is taken from one of the works of Catherine Henry, and contains innumerable tense dramatic situations which give Miss Compson the fullest opportunity to display her remarkable versatility. The action carries her through the complete range of human emotions, and her first production stamps her as one of the really great actresses of the screen.

"RIP VAN WINKLE" AT GRAND NEXT WEEK

It is interesting to note that Thomas Jefferson, besides having been starred in "Rip Van Winkle" on the stage for twenty-five years has at one time or other played almost every other part in the cast while appearing in support of his father, the world famous Joe Jefferson. For a long time, too, before Joe gave up playing the lead in "Rip," Thomas, when his father was either tired or indisposed, took his place in the playing of the leading role. And so great a master of make-up is he, that it is safe to assert that not a single member of the audience knew the difference

When Joe Jefferson retired from the stage, he gave Thomas his entire wardrobe, and so when you see "Rip Van Winkle" at the Grand theater next week you will see the famous son of a famous actor appearing in the very costumes worn by his father before him.

Producer-Director Ward Lascelle, who created the picture in which Thomas Jefferson so ably plays the leading role, claims that "Rip Van Winkle" is as fine a production as the screen has ever known.

"MOLLY O," GOING BIG AT THE REX.

One of the best pictures that ever came to Newark is being exhibited at the Rex theater all this week. It is a drama of youth and optimism entitled "Molly O," and has for its star the popular Mabel Normand. Mack Sennett, the Ccomedy King, presents the lavish drama which eclipses "Mickey" his sensational success.

Each performance of "Molly O" has been well attended and many pleasing comments about its wonderful likeness are made by the patrons.

Woman's prerogative to look down on the world.

But not so Christine Trevor.

She was the snobbiest snob that ever tilted a perfect formed snobbish nose. Nothing was good enough for her—no one was rich enough—she was ashamed of her father and brothers.

High heels were ruling the roost.

Something changed inside the little flapper—the tender goodness in her spoke.

"High Heels," in which the adorable little Gladys Walton will be seen at the Gem theater on Wednesday, is an appealing photoplay of the awakening of a girl's soul.

A Bible Thought for Today.

THE RIGHT ATTITUDE:—O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. For he is our God; and we are people of his pasture.—Psalm 95:6, 7.

THE 50TH ARBOR DAY.

Back in 1872, Nebraska appointed the first Arbor Day, to encourage tree planting, and since then it has kept up the good work by setting out 700,000 acres of trees. The idea has spread all over the country, until now Arbor days are observed on various dates in 47 states.

The tendency in recent years has beeen to leave tree culture to public officials. If you inquire of old residents as to who set out the superb trees found on the streets of many cities, you would usually learn that it was done by the old timers out of public spirit. People would go out on a holiday or at other times, and set out a lot of trees, with no expectation of being paid for their work, and their descendants now bless their wise and kindly forethought.

In these times when the majority of cities appropriate money from taxation to set out trees, there is a tendency for citizens to lie back and look to public authority to perform this task. But as funds as chronically short in most cities, tree planting may be neglected to some extent. New streets are often opened without having anything done in the way of tree planting.

There needs to be more of the real Arbor day spirit, inspired by which citizens shall get out with spades and watering pots and set out trees as they are needed on their own grounds and on street land not wait for city officials to come along and do it for them with the taxpapers' money.

There are very few cities that have as many trees as they should have. Many more could be planted to advantage in Newark, though this city is noted for its beautiful shade trees.

The recurrence of the 50th anniversary of the first Arbor day might well suggest to people the advantage of filling up the bare spots in their own neighborhood with some promising little saplings.

THE INDIFFERENT CITIZEN.

In a city well known to the readers of the Advocate, a newspaper there published reports that only half of the adult people had registered to vote. This city is noted as a prosperous and cultured community. While this may be an unusually large proportion of non-voters, the element that does not register is large in many places.

If this element consisted of the more ignorant folks, good citizens would say "We should worry." But the crowd that lacks intelligence is pretty well lined up by certain types of politicians.

The many people who are moving around from place to place constitute part of these non-voting people. Many people do not get concerned about politics until they are stirred up about some local contest.

For their first few years in any city they do not get in touch with local controversies. Their first incitement to vote frequently comes from the workers for some political cause, who solicit their support and induce them to get out and cast a ballot. But in large towns and cities they are often overlooked for several years. They are not interested enough in political affairs to get out and act on their own initiative.

The judgment of people who take so little interest in public matters might not be worth much if they did go to the polls. But this lack of concern about community affairs is one reason why official services are so frequently inefficient. If all of the people were watching intently each day in the newspapers, to see what their representatives were doing, the standard of public service would be far higher than it is now. Government would not cost so much, and it could do more and better work.

If prohibition is effective, the wets denounce it for interfering with their rights, and if it is not effective, then they denounce it for not accomplishing anything.

As fast as the road builders lay down a mile of new surface, speeding cars and trucks tear out two miles previously constructed.

The scriptural phrase, "Let us eat and drink for tomorrow we die," is literally fulfilled with many hootch consumers.

The people who upset trade by going on strike, will soon be complaining because the business system does not work right.

Some people in Newark who can't spare time to inform themselves how to vote, frequently know all the sporting news.

About now it is the privilege of every American citizen to be "mentioned" for public office.

Germany may be willing to pay her debts, if she is allowed to borrow money to do it with.

BALFOUR JOINS THE PEERS.

(New York World.)

It is nearly half a century since Arthur Balfour entered the house of commons as a young man of 26. Now, in the ripeness of his years, his translation to the house of lords as Earl of Balfour of Whittinghame will be cause for wide-spread regret. His place seemed to have fixed for life in the chamber where he had so long served with distinction. He belonged there by character and by inclination, for more than once he had declined the honor of a title where men of lesser stature and achievement were eager to acquire it.

When on his return to England from the Washington Conference Mr. Balfour accepted the Order of the Garter, the London press in a friendly spirit protested against being obliged to speak of him as Sir Arthur Balfour. It did violence to establish usage and the voluntary rule he had upheld in his person of untitled statesmen. The disappointment will be the greater on his being raised to the peerage and secluded for the rest of his life in the dreary company of the lords. It s a form of banishment for which the compensation must be small. It holds out no prospect of new successes to be compared with the recognized standing of a great leader of the house of commons.

For Arthur Balfour had won for himself the right to be regarded as a great commoner. Years ago he was on the point of retiring from public life but was forced back through the exigencies of party politics. Never at any time in his career has he exercised greater influence or played more honorable a part than in the laborious years during and since the war. It is probable that in entering the house of lords the Earl of Balfour—to respect his new disguise—is preparing to withdraw from politics and assume the role of passive observer. For the renewal of partisan strife. For the renewal of partisan strife, for which England is preparing, he can have little taste in view of the situation of the world today.

Getting It Straight.

It becomes our duty to correct an error in the Boston Post. Our contrib, Cleric, who now resides in Taunton, Mass., writes thus to Newt Newkirk's column, "All Sorts."

Dear Newt—You will be interested in my discovery of the shortest poem ever written. At first is seemed that an effort of Ted Robinson's in The Cleveland Plain Dealer deserved that distinction. Ted wrote this to commemorate the antiquity of the cootie. Here it is:

"Adam
Had 'em!"

However, I later discovered that Don Marquis had printed a still shorter poem in the New York Sun. This was on the occasion of a convention of tramps held in New York. Marquis' poetical welcome ran thus:

"Ho,
Bo."

Do you know of a shorter one than that, Newt? Taunton.

CLERIC.

Dear "Cleric";

O.
No!

N. N.

Now we must hasten to disabuse Cleric and Newt of the notion that we wrote the classic referred to. That poem was written, we have every reason to believe, by Strickland W. Gillilan, who was challenged to write a shorter poem than this, from the New York Sun:

"We
De-
Spise
Flies."

We forgive Cleric for the mistake, but Strick mightn't. 'Tis a little thing, but his own.

—Ted Robinson in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

We think the late Luke McLuke wrote the last poem quoted above and printed it in his column in the Cincinnati Enquirer, but shall await authoritative advice from Don Marquis before correcting the correction.

Did You Know

That there is a curious little lake in Sicily in the middle of which are three small craters? Two of these continually send up jets of water to the height of two or three feet, while the third is intermittent. The water is turbid and has the odor of bitumen. The whole lake, normally sixty or seventy yards in diameter, though much smaller in dry weather, is like a boiling caldron from the escape of carbonic acid gas rushing upward with great force. The atmosphere is fatal to birds flying across the lake and to small animals attempting to drink the water.

Q. When was radio first used on ships? C. E. A.

A. The radio inspector says that radio was first used on shipboard July 20 and 22, 1899, on the Flying Huntress, to report the Kingston regatta for a Dublin newspaper. In September and October of the same year races between Chaumont and Columbia were reported from an ocean going vessel for the New York Herald. In 1900 wireless apparatus was placed on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

Q. Where is the quotation "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath?" W. L. C.

A. This quotation is from the Bible—Mark 2:27.

A. The coast and geodetic survey says that it would be impossible to give any one port first place. These are all first class ports and each has some advantage that the others lack.

Q. What were the famous "Mulligan Letters?" S. E. F.

A. The Mulligan Letters were a series of letters written by James G. Blaine to Warren Fisher, a business associate, which it was alleged proved legislative corruption on the part of Blaine in the matter of bills in congress relating to railroads. The letters were obtained by a clerk of Fisher named James Mulligan, who appeared as a witness before a congressional committee appionted to investigate Blaine. A. The last census (1918) places the population of Manila, P. I., at 285,306.

Q. What bird migrates the farthest distance? R. D.

A. The biological survey says that the land bird with the longest migration route is probably the nighthawk, which occurs north to Yukon and south, 7,000 miles away, to Argentina. This distance is surpassed by some waterbirds and shorebirds, many of which travel more than 8,000 miles when migrating.

Q. When was the making of glass discovered? C. E. S.

A. It is impossible to say when the possibility of making glass was discovered. The discovery has been attributed to the ancient Phoenicians, perhaps 4,000 years before Christ. It is said that a cargo of natron which was being conveyed by Phoenician sailors from Egypt to Syria, was wrecked on a sandy beach, near Mt. Carmel, and a fire being laid, the elements were fused and the discovery of glass made. It is known that the Egyptians possessed the art of glass blowing, 4,000 B. C. Glass is made from a fusion of silica and alkali.

A. Kinderlahmung spinale, which means the spinal laming of children is the German equivalent for infantile paralysis.

Q. Who invented the fireless cooker? C. E. R.

GLIDING PLANE COMES NEXT

Scientists Study Birds to Learn Art of Flying Without Power.

German Experimenter Said to Have Met With Some Success.

(By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.)

Washington, D. C., April 18.—After successful flights across the Atlantic—one of them in a single leap—and the exploits of aircraft during the late war, it might be supposed that the conquest of the air has been accomplished ,and that aviators are "birdmen" in fact.

But the thing toward which students of flying are turning their attention now is the possibility of sustained flight without power—the kind of flight possible for an albatross, an eagle, or a sea gull. These birds and many others are capable of keeping themselves in the air, and of actually climbing higher and higher, without any apparent effort other than holding their wings extended.

The pursuit of this development is arousing more interest abroad than it is in America, the German flyers being particularly active in working toward accomplishing this end. It is now a little more than 19 years since the first controlled flight in a power-propelled airplane was successful, the machine being piloted by the American pioneer flyer, Wilbur Wright, at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. In the years between, heavier than air machines have been perfected in many details, and huge planes able to carry bombs weighing thousands of pounds and capable of carrying many persons have been constructed and their worthiness proved. But development of the so-called "glider" has lagged in America in comparison with our late enemy, Germany.

Study of big soaring birds notably the albatross, has led to the accomplishment of remarkable results, although it cannot be said that the powerless airplane is perfected as yet by any means. It is a fact that certain of the birds can remain for hours in the air without an apparent expenditure of energy in the way of flapping their wings. Gulls following a ship seem to hang stationary behind it, traveling forward at the limited speed of the vessel. The larger seabirds, it is claimed, have been observed for as long as daylight lasts, keeping up in the air and cruising here and there without once moving the wings in the motion commonly known as flapping.

In the studies of the birds as a model for "gliders," it was noted that the birds best capable of this sustained flight without effort have wings extending a considerable distance out from the sides of the bird, and tending to be narrow rather that broad wings. This idea has been followed in making gliders.

By glider is not meant a machine that will merely coast down the wind, gathering speed from loss of altitude. Such a machine would be useful only if started from the top of a hill, with a landing place somewhere on the plain below. This sort of thing would be and is relatively easy of accomplishment. The ambitious goal of the experimenters in this line is a machine without power which will rise of its own volition, utilizing air currents for the purpose, and fly about here and there without artificial means of propulsion, such as the propeller used by all airplanes.

The best record thus far obtained in this respect is credited to a German experimenter, a man named Harth. This man, according to accredited records, made his machine rise from a standstill without assistance, and eventually gained an altitude of about 200 feet above the starting point, keeping his machine in the air for 21 1-2 minutes. When he did land, it was at a point only 35 or 40 feet below his starting point, and that after being in the air for more than a third of an hour.

Too much should not be expected from the perfection of the "glider" in the way of actual long flights without any power whatsoever. Harth required a wind of about 20 miles an hour to make his remarkable record. Obviously it is impossible to get anything like "lift" from the air when there is a dead calm.

The big development which would seem to be possible in the near future, judging from the German experiments, is the aerial "flivver"—a small, safe plane, extremely low-powered, which the average man could afford and operate. On many occasions, such a machine could be operated without the use of power, when at sufficient altitudes to take advantage of the winds which are encountered more frequently high in the air. Also, a sufficiently skilled operator of such an aerial flivver could use it as a glider nearer to the ground when conditions made it possible.

Winds blowing in a general upward direction are recorded with more frequently than is ordinarily believed. The coloring of the ground, with the consequent varying reflection of the sun's heat, causes the air to rise quite generally over some areas, with compensating descending airs over other portions of ground. Inequalities of the surface—hills and mountains—force moving air into an upward direction. It is these air currents which the skilled manipulator of a glider takes advantage of in order to climb in the air above his starting point.

Earlier glider records were remarkable, but were beaten by Harth in his trip made last autumn. One German glider flew about six miles, and in the course of the flight rose 300 feet above its starting point. But the landing point was fully 1,500 feet above the starting point, and the flight lasted a much shorter time than Harth eventually was able to accomplish. Later on another German kept a powerless plane in the air about 15 minutes.

The great accomplishment made by Harth, though, was not so much the time record he made and the actual ascent into the air without power, as the fact that the plane from start to finish of the flight, "lost altitude" or came down, at the rate of only about two feet a minute.

The machine used by Harth did not have a rudder to guide it. This had been dispensed with, and movable wing tips used. Without any effort on the part of the aviator, the Harth machine heads into the wind when it changes direction. On the day when his great record was made, the wind was said to be bowing in gusts, and changing direction often. The machine headed into the wind whenever such a change came. So slight was the inclination of the ground that observers of the flight asserted that upward currents of wind had little to do with the climbing of the machine.

About a 20-mile wind was blowing when this noteworthy feat was performed. Aeronautical experts say that very little power for artificial propulsion would be needed in a light plane built along the lines of a soaring bird to give the same lift as that acquired from a moderate wind.

The "wing loading" of the German gliders is little. By this term is meant the weight sustained by each square foot of wing area when the machine is in flight. The gliders best known have wing areas ranging from 160 to 175 square feet. Assuming that the average flyer weighs 165 pounds, the wing loading varies from about two pounds per square foot to one pound. The Harth machine weighs about an even hundred pounds, probably the lightest of the gliders. Having a wing area of 165 square feet, the wing loading is just about 1 1-2 pounds per square foot when a 165 pound man is being carried

Naturally, the development of the glider is as much in its infancy as power driven airplanes were in the days of the first machine, which was "pushed" from the rear by propellers. Nineteen years have witnessed an amazing development since the pioneering done by the Wright brothers in the face of public ridicule. The next decade may witness the merging of the glider into the low-powered low-priced flying machine within the reach of the ordinary pocketbook. It would not be fast, but would have the compensating advantages of ascending into the air at very low speed and the ability to land almost anywhere at about the same velocity, instead of requiring regular flying fields for both starting and ending flights.

Business

BUSINESS is a good deal like a stream of water. Right now it's pretty shallow and some craft are scraping bottom. But follow along that stream and every now and then you'll find a Wise One has built a dam.

He has caught and held enough water to keep his bark comfortably afloat. The Wise Ones know that while the flow of water varies, the dam insures them a good floating supply at all times.

There are many business crafts that have floated serenely through the latest stream of depression. Some of them have floated through many such streams. But they were protected by good and sufficient dams.

The securities of such enterprises are real investments—at present prices many of them offer remarkable profit opportunities.

Channer & Sawyer Suggestions:

Before the war, stocks and bonds that promised returns of over 6% were very properly regarded with suspicion. At least they called for exceptional investigation.

Today many very excellent propositions are paying 6½% to 10% on their market value—and are earning much more. Among securities of this character we recommend the following:

STOCK	Dividend	Market Price About	Yield About per cent.
Chumgold Corporation	$3.00	33½	9.00
C. N. & C., common	6%	71	8.80
Cooper Corp., Class A	$1.60	18	8.33

STRAPS AND BUCKLES

Summer footwear, as the latest styles from London indicate, will be very much a thing of straps, buckles and cut designs. Some of the most clever of the new things are black patent leather sandals with cut designs of white following the lines of stitching and ornamenting the heels. Sometimes the toes are left quite plain, occasionally they sport a small cut design. The one-strap slipper on pump lines will be worn much. Very often the slipper of this type is of fabric, satin or brocade and ornamented with beading. The small buckles which made their appearance last year are holding their own in the field of fastenings. They are used more, however, on suede footwear, while buttons are reserved for satin. Satin and suede are often used in combination.

Delightful Numbers Feature The Final Music Club Program

One of the most artistic evening recitals ever given by The Woman's Music club took place at the First Methodist church Monday evening to a most appreciative audience. The pulpit was beautifully embellished with palms and ferns. The program was in charge of Mrs. H. F. Moninger. It was opened with a lovely quartet number. Miss Edith Hague sang two delightful numbers. Her soprano voice was clear, pure and flexible and her coloratura work in "Villenella" was wonderfully done, while her Homer's "Requiem" was a work of art. Miss Pearl Bourner's group of organ numbers was greatly appreciated for she played with elegant style and displayed the varied quality of the organ, especially the melodic portion. Her Woodman number was big, broad and beautiful.

Mrs. Moninger's group, the Secchi number, and "The Sea", by MacDowell portrayed the dramatic quality of her voice with great power, while her range wa smost noticeable. Her Cuckoo Song was a correct imitation of the bird and was perfectly sung.

"The Passage Bird's Farewell" by Hildach, sung by Miss Hague and Mrs. Moninger, was very smooth and pretty and as a fitting climax, Miss Hogue and Mrs. Moninger, assisted by Messrs. Baughman and Marshall, sang a charming quartet, which greatly enhanced the program.

OUR FIRST YEAR

BY A BRIDE

Start This Today

The bride, who has agreed with her husband that marriage should not interfere with individual liberty, is asked, at luncheon with five girl friends, to give her opinions on love and marriage.

CHAPTER XVI

MAN OR WIFE MORE UNFAIR?

It is hard for me to speak to others of intimate personal matters And so I answered Bonny by quoting things my mother had told me. Mother believed that if women are ever to realize love's finest promises, if ever we are to drag love to higher levels, we will have to pull hard and pull together. Suddenly I found myself quoting, as well as I could, some of my mother's feminist notions:

"Bonny, dear! Life holds a lot of marvels. But we girls see only one. It's love. We dream about it, exalt it, until it fills every corner of our minds.

"Until it rules everything we do, That's the ancient way. It's alluring. It's delightful for a while. Men have wanted it so—for women.

"But it hasn't made women happy! And when love fails—there's nothing left for most of us. That's silly. Men don't talk love so."

While I paused, feeling for a satisfactory conclusion, Jeanne spoke:

"Peg means we girls vision love and the lover too magnificently. We exaggerate. And when our prince turns out a common man we—we're sore! We blame him.

"We're all like George Bradshaw's divorced wife. First we endow a lover with wonders he hasn't got. And then we blame the husband because he isn't what we thought him. Girls, we're just as unfair to men as men are to us. Just as unfair. Only in a different way!"

"I'm not unfair to my husband," protested Mary Smith. "And he would be the last to say so!"

Bonny giggled rudely, then gasped: "Peg! Is Jack unfair to you?"

"Never!"

"You've only been married a month. You mean—not yet!" said Jeanne.

"Jack and I never are going to be what you call 'disillusioned,'" I explained. "We don't expect love to be all of life. Jack doesn't pretend to be perfect. I know he isn't. I am not. He knows it. We've talked it over. We plan to tolerate each other without complaint."

"That doesn't sound to me as if you ar really in love," remarked Mary Smith, sweetly as always.

I ignored Mary. I took up my lovely coffee cup and it seemed to contradict my last statement. I was glad that a babel of tongues allowed me to be silent, to think.

That Wedgewood! Jack had asked me not to buy it, not to charge anything more this month. But what was I to do, with six for luncheon? Only odd cups, and there wasn't the least sense in buying more odd cheap cups which I would loathe.

And so, impulsively, I had stepped to the phone and had ordered six cups and saucers, and a salad bowl and six plates to match the Wedgwood I already owned. It was so easy, with my own charge account! And my own check book!

But I couldn't help wishing Jack knew about them, and that I didn't have to "own up" that I had disregarded his first serious request as a husband.

Rewards Employes Who Were Keynote Of His Success

Waterloo, Iowa, April 18.—Make your keynote of success your employes!

That's advice from B. F. Bishop, cafeteria owner here.

And it comes after he has tried it out and made a go of it.

A year ago Bishop bought a cafe that was serving about 30 people a day. Today he's furnishing meals for some 900 per day.

How'd he do it? Let Bishop tell you:

"I secured inexperienced employes and trained them to give faultless service. Then I trained my own cooks by giving them what I had learned from 25 years in the chefing business.

"Nothing but home cooking goes. "A sign on my wall reads 'No charge for the second cup of coffee and we bring it to you.'"

Bishop contends that no man can succeed without the hearty co-operation of his employes. "Because my helpers are satisfied they work hard," he says. "And this means that customers get the best kind of service."

Now Bishop is opening a cafeteria in Cedar Rapids with his present employes as partners. He will own 51 per cent of the stock and the employes the balance. Workers will receive salary plus dividends.

Bishop is financing his employes to help them in the new venture because he has faith in them. He wants them to realize an ambition and he says he realizes that his present success was contributed to by them.

Returns From Speaking Tour

Cincinnati, April 18.—The chairman of the national league's committee on social hygiene, has written to state headquarters that Ohio is among about twelve states of the union which have what is known as "the model vice repressive law."

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters, returned last week from a six-week's speaking tour covering very state.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover To Have Luncheon For Convention Delegates

Cincinnati, April 18.—Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the secretary of commerce, will give a luncheon on "Washington Day," April 28, for delegates attending the national convention, according to word received at state headquarters.

FROM MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

Learn to know the edible weeds of early spring and use them on your table.

The tender young leaves of scoke are delicious. The shoots come up and look much like rhubarb just coming through the ground.

While the leaves are tightly curled and a pale yellow scoke is considered a delicacy. But remember that when scoke shoots unfold into real leaves the leaves are not good to eat.

Creamed Scoke

Wash the shoots through several waters. Let stand in salt water for half an hour. Drain and pour over boiling water to cover. Let stand 10 minutes and drain.

Put in a smooth stew pan, add just enough water to prevent burning and boil uncovered for 20 minutes. Drain and reheat in white sauce. This is very good supper dish and a good accompaniment for fish.

Scoke shoots are used, too with a plain butter dressing on with a tart dressing such as is used with dandelion greens.

Another weed that was cultivated years ago is the sorrel. Most everyone knows the weed, but few housekeepers realize its food value.

Sorrel can be used uncooked as a green saltd alone or in combination with other salad plants. Shredded cabbage and minced sorrel dressed with oil and lemon juice make an unusual salad that is surprisingly good.

The English have many recipes for sorrel borrowed from the French. These rules are worked out for the American housewife.

COIN PURSES

One finds, rambling about in the shops, amusing hand-painted cloth pocketbooks. The figures which ornament them wear English costumes of the fifteenth century.

SITE GIVEN FOR LIBRARY

Mrs. C. B. White Authorizes Announcement of Gift of Home to Granville People For a Library.

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, April 18.—Announcement was made Monday night at the village and township mass meeting of the gift of a library site by Mrs. C. B. White. The property is Mrs. White's old home in Broadway, next to the Phi Gamma Delta house. The gift was announced by W. A. Holmes, who gave a report of the year's work of the library.

The offer of J. S. Jones of $10,000 to the building fund, was reaffirmed. It is the wish of Mr. Jones that the library building be a separate structure, complete in itself.

An advisory committee with representatives from all organizations interested in the community welfare projects will be formed, each organization electing its representative. This group will be called together for a meeting soon.

The town meeting held under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association, was a success. Interest was manifested in brief supplementary talks by J. S. Jones, Mrs. J. S. Jones, Rev. W. H. Thompson, Dr. C. J. Loveless, F. G. Delweiler, H. W. Deming and others. The meeting opened with Rev. H. T. Houf in the chair, the secretary's report by Miss Courtwright; the treasurer's report by Dr. F. B. Wiley, who stated that 130 members have paid their dues; and by Dr. W. C. Ebaugh in the program.

Mayor J. S. Graham in speaking on "Need for an Auditorium," expressed his gratification as mayor, that the first steps are being taken in actual co-ordination of community interests. He said that the need for an auditorium is one of the greatest; that for the larger meetings of the community proper, aside from religious assemblies the village has, at present, no suitable auditorum. One or two things must be considered in securing this auditorium, he said. One would be the location, and another would be its maintenance; whether it should become part of the centrally located community house, or a part of the centralized school plant.

W. A. Holmes, in speaking for "The Library" gave a report of the past year's work. He made the statement which he said he could confirm, that its record during the past year outstrips that of any other library of its size in the state. He said he had been authorized to state that Mrs. C. B. White is following out a long cherished purpose in giving to the people of Granville as a site for the library her old home, the property on Broadway, next to the Phi Gamma Delta house. He said he also had been authorized by J. S. Jones to reaffirm his offer of $10,000 to the building fund. When called upon for a speech, Mr. Jones briefly confirmed Mr. Holmes' statement.

In this connection it was announced that the donors of the building wish it to be a separate structure and complete in itself.

Mrs. M. E. Stickney spoke of "The Need for a Community House." She referred to the offer of $5,000 from Mr. Jones to the building fund, of the organization of the Community House corporation. Of the need for and assembly room, kitchen and dining room facilities, rest room, writing rooms, men's social room, boy's club room, King's Daughters rooms, public health nurses' quarters and many other facilities.

Superintendent St. Clair was eloquent in pleading for a "School Plant." He said there are 500 pupils and 21 teachers, the teachers are over worked, the rooms over crowded, that the county school houses are not fit for occupancy; that the entering age has had to be raised from 5 to 7 years. He was in favor of retaining the present building for use of the grades and erecting a new building for use of the junior and senior high schools.

Wilkin Jones, for the "Grange and Farm Bureau," said that the farmers are awakened to the necessity of the times, and are interested in all those improvements and are ready to bear their part in all right enterprises.

Mrs. Frank Ray spoke of the re-adjustments going on in the "Red Cross" working. She said that at the time of the Armistice, Granville had $1500 in the treasury; that the county fund was $27,000 that they are now asking for only $5,000 for next year's work. In examination of children last year 62 per cent were found defective, she said.

Harold Lamson in speaking for the business men's organization said in part that Granville men are willing to work for dividends in better children and that they can be depended upon for hearty co-operation in every worthy enterprise.

The 200 people present expressed it as their judgment that a thoroughly representative advisory committee should be constituted, to counsel with the separate organizations and to keep the community informed as to the progress of community interests. The different organizations will be asked to appoint their own representatives on the committee which will be opened soon for organization by the president of the P. T. A.

The Granville Grange will hold its regular meeting Friday evening at the usual hour.

The Denison Board of Trustees is convened today for the spring meeting and holding its meetings in Stone Hall parlors. They will be guests of the college at dinner in Shepardson Commons this evening.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ebaugh have had as guest today, Dr. Edgar F. Smith of Philadelphia, Pa., provost emeritus of the University of Pennsylvania, now president of the American Chemical society. Dr. Smith was taken on an inspection tour of the university, addressing the students at general assembly in the Baptist church at 11:30, and after luncheon at the Ebaugh home in Prospect Hill was taken to Columbus by his host, where he gave an address before the Chemical society at Ohio State university. Wednesday the two men will go to Dayton where they will be entertained at the Engineers club; will inspect McCook aviation field and the plant of the General Motors company research laboratories. Wednesday evening Dr. Smith will address the Cincinnati section of the American Chemical society in that city.

Mrs. E. P. Johnston will open her home in South Cherry street this evening for the regular meeting of the Mothers' club. The program will consist of a paper by Mrs. Ben Woodbury on "The Fighting Instinct," and one by Miss Laura Hosick on "How to Conduct Home Study."

In his letters to the membership of the Ohio Music Teachers' association regarding the approaching convention to be held jointly with the Ohio Federation of Music clubs in Granville, May 15-20, Director K. H. Eschman of the conservatory and president of the association, speaks of the co-operation of Newark and Granville in welcoming the guests, and the superior transportation facilities they will find between the two places.

This is the 40th annual convention of the O. M. T. A. and a milestone in the history of this, the oldest state association in the country. This convention will be notable also, Mr. Eschman states, as the first year in which the Ohio Federation of Music clubs meets with the teachers' association.

The schedule for this year is for a co-ordinate program. Monday and Tuesday, May 15-16, are federation days. The contests for young professionals with prizes offered by the federation will be held under the auspices of both organizations Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon and evening there are festival concerts by the Cleveland Symphony orchestra.

A program book giving detailed programs for all five days will be sent out about May 1. Each day will contain features which no one will care to miss, according to Mr. Eschman's letter.

Mrs. H. F. Darrow is the chairman of hospitality. The annual dues of the association—levied upon all members whether they attend the convention or not are sent to Miss Fannie J. Farrar, treasurer, Granville. The dues admit to all sessions, recitals, etc., with the exception of the two festival concerts.

HAWKS KEEP DOWN PESTS

Mice and rabbits kill young trees by gnawing off the bard in winter, thus girdling them. Therefore, owls, hawks and other predatory birds that kill rodents and so tend to hold their numbers down perform an inestimable service in the forest. Most of these birds nest in the woods, and although they hunt much for field mice in the open, they feed also on squirels, wood mice and rabbits.

BIRDS PROTECT TREES FROM BUGS

Remember the birds this spring. The possibilities of the increase of forest insects are so appalling that potent forces to keep them within bounds are indispensable; otherwise, insects might destroy all forest trees. The numbers of insect species that attack a single tree sometimes run into hundreds, and the individuals of each species if unchecked would soon number untold millions. Before such countless hordes man would be powerless.

As many as 100 visitors a night see the Emerson McMillin Observatory at the Ohio State University in the spring to see Jupiter, Saturn and the moon, all of which are in prominent places for study around the first of April.

BEAUTY CULTURE HINTS

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

CAN NOW TELL DAD HOW TO OPERATE FARM

And Dad Listens, Too, Declares Ag. School Head.

Twenty-One Hundred In Classes at Ohio State.

Columbus, April 18.—Telling dad how to farm, and being listened to with respect, is a common experience of students in vocational agriculture classes in schools of the state, according to Prof. W F Stewart, head of the teacher training department for vocational agriculture, Ohio State University.

Tying up practical with theoretical work is bringing unusually good results, Stewart said.

A boy in the northeastern part of the state, according to Stewart, outclassed his father in potato production, two to one, over a series of two or three years

The work is intended primarily to keep the boy on the farm, it is laboratory, and there's where he does his practical work.

Vocational agriculture classes were organized in Feb 1918, and there were 17 now there are 86 departments with a total enrollment of more than 2100 boys

Each boy carries at least one project on the home farm It may be swine management, or feeding, live stock, grains, vegetables, sugar beets poultry, orcharding, small fruits and the like

The boys part in the work is to have complete control of the project whatever it is, through agreement with his father or the owner of the farm, and he follows a program of his own, formulated by him, under the guadance of the instructor.

For the first time in its history, the Ohio State Grange will have a definite part in Farmers' Week at Ohio State University. At the next Farmers' Week, the Grange will have a training school for lecturers, and schools for the general development of the community work of the Grange

Preliminary work was mapped out by a committee composed of Deach Vivian of the college of agriculture at Ohio State State Grange Master Harry A Caton State Grange Lecturer G R Lewis Director Ramsower of the extension service of the university Professor Lively of the department of rural economics and J J Falconer, master of the University Grange

It is likely that one day of Farmers' Week will be designated Grange Day and a part of the general program designed to this end.

The Grange will have headquarters at the university for the week, and the state master and other Grange workers will be available for consultation and conference.

Ohio farmers saved at total of I362-275, by shipping their own live stotck during the last nine months according to the third annual report of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. During that period, the report says, farmers shipped 5353 floors of livestock, containing 304,504 hogs, 15,527 calves, 15,269 cattle, and 77,611 sheep. The total net weight of these animals was 182,335,170 pounds Their net value to the farmers was $5,980,870 22.

The mean marketing expense of all counties on all species of stock, was 72 cents per hundred weight, not including shrinkage. The mean shrinkage on all species was 3 4 pounds per hundred weight.

"Figuring this shrinkage at a net of 10 cents a pound, the marketing expense including shrinkage, has been $1 06 per hundred weight on all kinds and grades of animals," the report pointed out

A branch laboratory of the Ohio Experiment Station is to be located soon at Chillicothe, to work in conjunction with the station at Wooster, and the entomology department at Ohio State University.

Chillicothe is in a region where much canning is done, and last year, spinach and sweet-corn growers had crop difficulties due to destruction by insects. August E. Miller, entomologist at Ohio State, is collecting insects in the Chillicothe region The laboratory may be established there by next year, to aid truck and fruit growers in that vicinity.

Livestock marketing lends itself better to cooperative enterprise than does any other farm marketing project, says Z. B. Wallin, rural economics department, Ohio State University, in commenting on the relative possibilities of all cooperative enterprises.

"No capital is required in the shipment of livestock, and very little time is required between the time of the shipment and the receipth of the draft Prof Wallin points out To compare with this, he said, much capital is required in the shipment of grain, wool, etc, and very often the cash is not received for some time after the shipment

"Cooperative marketing of live stock is very simple," he continued "The shippers elect the directors, the directors elect a manager, the manager orders a car, loads it, consigns and receives the draft in payment. He takes the money and divides it according to the shipments consequently the farmers receive the highest possible price obtainable in a very short period of time"

Seed potatoes showing inside discoloration when they are cut should not be used, Prof. C J. Willard of the farm crops department at Ohio State University advises Dry rot, he said, can be detected by the sunken area at the stem end of the auber and a dark-brown crescent shaped mark on the longitudinal section of the potato. "The disease along with blackleg, can oe reduced to a minimum by careful selection of clean seed," he asserted.

"Potato scab and rhizoctonia can be controlled by a good rotation of crops and by a thorough treatment of the tubers before planting with, in the case of the scab, corrosive sublimate of farmalin, and in the case of rhizoctoma, with a corrosive sublimate.

"Late blight, early burn, and tipburn can not be controlled by any treatment of the seed before planting, but can be checked by spraying when the plants are about eight inches high with a 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture, after the plant has reached this growth. It not only checks the disease, but also greatly increases the yield."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if your want to keep your hair looking best Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified

WORKS FOR CHILD MUST KEEP WELL

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I did not like to take any chances, so consulted my friends, and one laid said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you.

Your weekly wash snowier than ever

SNOWY bed-spreads, sheets and pillow cases. Plenty of clean clothes for all the family.

How proud you are of your freshly laundered things, but what endless rubbing it meant before you used this entirely new kind of soap!

An hour's soaking in Rinso suds does more than all the soaking with ordinary soap and all the hard rubbing you used to do.

After soaking, only a few pieces need any rubbing at all. A little dry Rinso rubbed on these gets them clean as can be, and not a thread is weakened.

Rinso is the great soap maker's answer to women who want a soap to do the family wash as easily and wonderfully as Lux does fine things. Rinso is sold everywhere. Get it today—at grocery and department stores. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

NOTE—In hard water it takes from ¾ to 1 package of Rinso to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1½ to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lasting suds that loosen all the dirt.

Mrs. Lou Tyler.
Mrs. Warren Atherton of South Williams street and Mrs. William Durkes have returned from Delaware where they attended the funeral yesterday of Mrs. Lou Tyler, wife of B. T. Tyler of Columbus. Mrs. Tyler was a sister of Mrs. Atherton. Death came Saturday at the sanitarium at Delaware Springs. Mrs. Tyler formerly resided in Granville. She is survived by her husband and one son, Hugh Tyler.

Elizabeth J. Dusthimer.
Elizabeth J. Dusthimer was born January 15, 1848 and departed this life from the home of her daughter, March 16, 1922, aged 74 years, two months, one day. She was united in marriage to Mr. Bourbon Coe August 6, 1865, who preceded her in death eight years ago. Two children were born to this union, who survive her. Those who are left to mourn their loss are as follows: One daughter, Mrs. Eva L. Leasure of Pleasant Valley; one son, Edwin M. Coe of Granger; two brothers, John W. Dusthimer of Newark; Harvey E. Dusthimer of Lanville; four grandchildren, Edith M. Hupp Ernest E. Coe, Pearl M. Leasure, Mabel E. Leasure; also one great grandchild, Paul Eugene Hupp. One brother James M. Dusthimer. One grandchild, Raymond Gilbert Coe and also one great grandchild, Vernon Edwin Hupp, having preceded her to the great beyond.
Mrs. Coe was converted and united with the Methodist church in her girlhood and through all the years until the final summons came to call her from labor to reward. She has been a devout, faithful follower of Christ; an every-day Christian, full of faith and good deeds. She loved her church and was loyal to it. She impressed the writer of this sketch as deeply appreciating her church privileges and greatly enjoying the communion and fellowship of Christian people. Her example was consistent with her profession and to know her well was to recognize in her those virtues that are the rich fruits of a consecrated life. Sister Coe will be greatly missed in the church and by many people of the community.
Gone, but not forgotten, she leaves to her children and to all who knew her, the rich legacy of a life spent in the service of the Lord and for mankind. 4-18-1tx

In Memorium
In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Albert L. Daugherty, who died in the U. S. Navy four years ago today, April 18, 1918.
Just fond thoughts,
Just a memory fond and true,
And a token of true love yearning,
But, Albert, a heart aches still for you.
Ever sadly missed by his parents, sisters and brother; all loved him.

Strong Man is Weak Compared With Bug

If our legs had the same relative power as those of a flea, we could jump with ease over a church spire 300 feet high.
An ant moving a heavy pebble up a little slope of earth is performing a feat equivalent to that of a man pulling a railroad train along the track, single-handed. Ants have frequently drawn little wagons 1,400 times as heavy as themselves. The rove beetle has drawn a cart 45 times its own weight, and has lifted 1,800 times its weight in escaping from beneath the cover of a tin can.
These instances are cited to show that, weight for weight, the most powerful professional "strong man" is a weakling compared with many common insects.

Never tell a married man anything you wouldn't care to have all his wife's friends know.

LODGE FACES HOT FIGHT TO RETAIN SEAT

Powerful Candidates May Enter Contest at Primary and Election.

His League of Nations Record and Treaty Action are Attacked.

Boston April 18.—(By NEA)—The biggest fight in the United States is brewing in Massachusetts. It has national significance, and an eager nation is watching, because it is a fight to unseat Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.
"Beat Lodge!" is the slogan.
"Who can do it?" is the question.
Two millionaire lawyers are chief figures in the battle. One, Colonel William A. Gaston, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination. The other, Sherman L. Whipple, will probably oppose Gaston.
Both are fighting men. But Whipple seems to be generally regarded as the most formidable Democrat likely to beat Lodge.
Another complication is that former Governor Samuel W. McCall may give Lodge a battle for the Republican nomination. If Whipple runs and McCall runs there will be two spectacular struggles at the September primaries as a preliminary to the grand knock-down battle in November.
Silk gloves cover hard knuckles in this remarkable situation.
All belong to the "upper ten;" all are wealthy, all are personal friends.
"Colonel Gaston is a charming gentleman," says Senator Lodge.
"Mr. Lodge is charming personally—it's the things he stands for," says Whipple.
And Whipple feels the same way about Colonel Gaston; and Colonel Gaston has similar sentiments toward Lodge and Whipple.
Lodge is 72 and has spent half his life in congress, six years in the house and 30 years in the senate. Whipple is 60, and never held office. Gaston is 63 and has made three unsuccessful tries for governor.
Wilson Democrats are in open revolt against Gaston's candidacy, for Gaston was as much a foe of the League of Nations as Lodge. And Whipple, a strong League of Nations man, regards Gaston as being tarred with the same "big business" stick as Lodge.
Here in Massachusetts the people are jealous of these friendly enemies of theirs. They want the rest of the country strictly to understand that this is a private fight, not a public one.
Thinking Democrats say the more Lodge is attacked nationally the more able he will be to don the cloak of martyr and in that role gain sympathy and support at home. They regard the "Lick Lodge" battlecry, now being heard over the country in connection with Lodge's leadership against the League of Nations and for the four-power treaty, as Lodge propaganda — designed to make Massachusetts mad and rally the state around a native son.
So the state fight will not be so much on Lodge's attitude in foreign relations as on his record in home affairs.
Gaston hasn't announced his platform and will not until he returns from a business trip to Europe a month hence.
Whipple, though not yet an avowed candidate, will fight Lodge on the ground that he has neglected labor and the masses generally in favor of special interests and on his vote for Newberry and against such things as woman's suffrage and the soldier bonus.
The age-old enmity between the two big Democratic bosses, Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, and former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, may have an important bearing on the fight Fitzgerald, who opposed Lodge in the last senatorial election, announced his candidacy for governor the same day Gaston came out for senator Curley, whose power has increased tremendously since his recent election as mayor, is regarded as favorable to Whipple.
Whipple has been practising law in Boston since 1887 and has a national reputation as a trial lawyer. Twice he has refused a seat on the state supreme court. He is under medium height, bulky, with close-clipped brown hair going gray, and a fighting face. He is a Yale man.
Gaston has gained fame as a combination lawyer, business man and banker and is chairman of the board of the National Shawmut bank. Like Lodge, he is a Harvard man, a classmate of Theodore Roosevelt, and still remembered at Harvard for his fistic battle for the college middleweight boxing championship in 1879 when, seconded by Roosevelt, he beat Ramon Guiteras. He is short, stocky, with a firm mouth, and sandy hair and mustache.
Everybody here thinks Lodge has the stiffest fight of his career ahead.

Oldest Living Thing Is Mexican Cypress

Reputed to be the oldest living thing in the world, a cypress tree standing in the churchyard of the little Mexican town of Santa Maria del Tule has the largest trunk of any known tree. The diameter of the trunk is 50 feet.
Twenty-eight people, with arms outstretched and finger tips just touching, can barely reach around the circumference. The diameter exceeds by 14 feet that of the largest of the California redwoods, according to Charles J. Chamberlain of the University of Chicago.

NEWS NOTES OF AMERICAN LEGION

A legion commander for the first time made use of the radio telephone in broadcasting a message to the ex-service men of America when Hanford MacNider stood in Detroit, Mich., and from station WWJ sent an Easter greeting that was heard in all middle western states and as far south as the Gulf.

The fine points of bravery are not unknown to Governor Harry L. Davis of Ohio but when he was asked to pick the bravest ex-solder in Ohio to represent the Buckeye population at a national assemblage in San Francisco, Ca., he declined the large responsibility. At his request the American Legion undertook the selection.

A community play ground will be erected by the American Legion at Nashville, Tenn., the ex-soldiers bearing the expense of apparatus and upkeep.

Poison gas which A. M. Thompson, Cheyenne, Wyo., policeman, inhaled in France during the war four years ago, has just caused him to lose 26 teeth, according to a report made by the American Legion. The policeman recovered from a long illness after the teeth had been removed.

Smarting red eyes among Brooklyn, N. Y., school children caused several shop owners to be hauled into court. It was found that merchants were selling a war-time device for purifying water consumed by soldiers as "toy bombs," which threw off poison fumes upon exploding.

So confident are the ex-service men of Emporia, Kan., that the adjusted compensation measure will be passed by the senate that the American Legion members of that place have pledged $3,000 of the expected money to be used as the nucleus of a fund to erect a suitable community club house.

Former navy radio operators and members of the army signal corps have organized under the auspices of the American Legion in Nebraska and are broadcasting market reports, weather forecasts and weekly musical concerts to the rapidly growing legion of wireless telephone users.

In Korea, where Fords cost $1,012.50, former members of the A. E. F. have banded themselves together under the leadership of M. L. Swineheart, treasurer of the Southern Presbyterian mission of the Hermit Kingdom, and formed a post of the American Legion. About a dozen ex-fighters, most of them missionaries, make up the post membership.

The aid of Mayor Curley of Boston, Mass., other city officials, the American Legion and the American consul at Sidney, N. C., was required before an Yank ex-service man, "stranded" with his family in Nova Scotia, could be brought back to his Boston home. The legion paid the bills the man had incurred and the officials unwound the necessary red tape.

The superstition that all army top sergeants are "hard boiled" took wing whom an investigator uncarthed one ex-top kick in Chicago who is spending his time trying to locate jobs for ex-service men as his part of the American Legion's campaign to find work for world war veterans.

When two desperate criminals broke jail at Springfield, Tenn., and took refuge in the woods, the chief of police called on the American Legion after his own force had failed in its effort to capture his former guests. The ex-service men formed a battle line and the two fugutives were landed back in the calaboose.

Judge Harry S. Keldan of Detroit, Mich., opening his court for business, found that the entire jury panel had been snapped up by other jurists. His honor asked the American Legion to further the cause of justice with a result that a new set of 10 talesmen, all jobless ex-service men, was impaneled.

A thorough canvass of the ex-service men of Stuttgart, Ark., failed to bring to light a single unemployed veteran. The unemployment committee of the American Legion was formed to function so it dug up two jobs for men already employed which were better than the ones they had.

Time has so thinned the ranks of the G. A. R. at St. Cloud, Minn., that the few remaining members have voted to disband and turn over to the American Legion the responsibility of observing Memorial and other days on which the boys of '61 have honored their dead comrades for more than half a century.

Hanging in the room which Marshal Foch of France has reserved in his home for the thousands of presents he received while touring the United States under the auspices of the American Legion boys are the keys to 11 of America's largest cities. All the gifts which Americans bestowed on the marshal are in his "American room" except the famous Montana bob cat which now paces a cage in the Paris Zoological gardens.

Wall Street.
New York, April 18.—In striking contrast to initial dealings of the past few weeks, opening prices in the stock market today were decidedly reactionary. Yesterday's record operation and the unstable movements of certain leaders, especially the oils, evidently prompted a renewal of short selling, although rails showed marked firmness. Sinclair, Studebaker, Midvale, Baldwin, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Mexican Petroleum and Atlantic Gulf, lost substantial fractions. Standard Oil of California, U. S. Rubber, St. Paul, Atchison, Illinois Central, New Haven and Coco Cola featured the markets strong side. Reading's one point reaction reflected the latest aspects of the coal strike.

Call money opened at 3 1-2 percent, but selling on a large scale continued throughout the morning. The turnover for the first two hours was estimated at 750,000 shares, this falling considerably under yesterday's record. The more substantial reactions included Canadian Pacific and Standard Oil of New Jersey, which lost 2 1-4 and four points respectively. Foreign oils, especially Mexican Petroleum and General Asphalt were liquidated. Other transcontinentals eased with Canadian Pacific and coolers lost ground with Reading. Steels, equipments, motors and tobaccos made one to two point recessions. Wilson, Montgomery-Ward and Peoples Gas were among the few stocks to run counter to the general reaction.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, April 18.—Wheat took a new upward swing in price today during the early trading although the Liverpool market showed but little advance as compared with the big gains here while the Liverpool exchange was closed for the Easter holidays. Notable absence of pressure to sell was apparent in Chicago and a renewal of crop damage reports from the southwest tended also to stimulate buying and to life values. The seeming apathy at Liverpool was practically ignored here except at the opening. Initial quotations which ranged from 1-2 to 1 1-4 lower with May $1.39 1-2 to $1.40 and July $1.24 to $1.24 1-4 were followed by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to 3-8 lower; July 64 1-8 to 64 1-4c; corn scored a moderate general advance.

Oats started 1-8 off to 1-8 up, July 40 3-4c and then showed gains for all months.

Provision prices were inclined to sag in the absence of any special demand.

Chicago Live Stock.
Chicago, April 18.—Cattle receipts 12,000; market slow; few early sales beef steers and butcher she stock weak to 25c lower; beef steers of quality to sell, largely at $7.50@8.40; bulls and veal calves about steady; stockers strong; few early sales veal calves mostly $7@7.50; bologna bulls largely $4.25@4.40.

Hogs: receipts 17,000; market fairly active; lights mostly weak to 10c lower than yesterday's average; medium and heavies about steady; top, $10.60; bulk, $9.80@10.50; pigs and packing sows, steady.

Sheep, receipts 6,000; lambs strong to 25c higher; fat sheep scarce about steady; top wooled lambs early $15.10; bulk, $14.75@15.10; top shorn, $13.50; bulk, $12.75@13.25; few good 155-pound wooled ewes, $19.00.

EX-SOLDIER INVENTS NEW CONFECTION

When C. K. Nelson and Russell Stover sprang their sensation of chocolate covered ice cream, called the Esquimo Pie, it was the wonder of the confection and ice cream manufacturing world. It has been proven a practical idea and the pie under the Esquimo and other trade names is now being made by the millions.

Alonzo Reaser of 34 Elizabeth street made application yesterday to the patent office for a patent on a new confection mold which he has developed. He intends to produce a new chocolate covered gelatin bar. Reaser in his invention has overcome the difficulty of coating gelatin, which melts at a low temperature, with chocolate and intends to market his products within a few days among dealers here as the Gee Ella bar. He was in the Advocate office yesterday with some Gee Ella bars of grape flavored gelatine, covered with delicious milk chocolate. The bars, being sealed with a coating of chocolate will stand a temperature of 60 degrees and if previously chilled will hold up for hours.

Reaser is a former service man, having seen more than a year's service in France during the late war with the 51st division.

street to construct a one-story building nine feet wide on the south side of the present building at Second and Church streets. The company intends to build a small green house and sun room and under the fire ordinance had to have special permission of council as the frames which will hold the glass will be of wood. The danger from fire is negligible and council adopted the resolution.

A resolution granting Service Director Moore to cut a trench in the new paving on Eastern avenue to install a sewer connection at 344 Eastern avenue, was adopted by a small following a protest and discussion of the matter. City Engineer Wells reported that when the sewer was built 17 years ago no connection to this lot was made although the report of the inspector at that time shows that one was. Because of the fact that the matter was the fault of the city, council will permit the street to be torn up. Council as a whole opposed to the tearing up of streets after new paving has been put down however.

A resolution authorizing the city solicitor to confess judgment in the case of Timothy Sullivan vs. the City of Newark for $250 was approved and adopted on suspension of rules.

Friday: Alexanders vs. Reeses; Grahams vs. Florys.

The Alexanders made the Grahams come across with two out of three games last night in the volley ball league at the Y. M. C. A.

The Grahams drove their opponents off in the first game, but were compelled to give up in the last two by the Alexanders who kept close on their heels to a finish. Final scores: 7 to 15, 15 to 11, and 15 to 9.

Flory's crew, of hard to beat swatters, trapped the Reeses by taking best two out of three. The Reeses fought in every minute of play, closing out the Florys in the second game, and losng out in the third by a close shave. Final scores: 15 to 7, 11 to 15, and 15 to 11.

Children Who Are Fighting Eye Strain
Are often disobedient, slow to learn, victims of headaches, listless, disinterested in studies, and below par in efficiency. Examination of the eyes of school children has proven these facts over and over again. And it has been found that supplying such children with the necessary glasses has resulted in an almost immediate and complete removal of the undesirable conditions. We can tell you about your children's eyes.

THIRTY PLAYERS ARE USED IN THIS GAME

Washington, April 18.—Washington defeated Philadelphia yesterday, 11 to 9 in one of the wierdest games ever seen here. The visitors used 14 players and the locals 16, 10 of the total of 30 players being pitchers, five for each club. Of the entire pitching array, Phillips alone proved effective for more than one inning. The winning runs, made in the seventh, were charged against Yarrison, who yielded a single to LaMotte and walked both Peckinpaugh and Gharrity to fill the bases with none out. Rommel then succeeded Yarrison and four runs developed from Goslin's sacrifice fly, a triple by Judge and a double by Harris.

SHANNON BEST IN BOUT WITH BECKER

Columbus, April 18.—Eddie Shannon, Columbus lightweight boxer, who once reigned supreme over men of his weight on the Pacific coast, and who started a come-back here recently at the expense of Frankie Callahan, climbed one big notch, or maybe two, higher last night, when he decisively outpointed Benny Becker in a 12-round contest at the Chamber of Commerce.

Every round of the 12 sessions went to Shannon, and each and every one was by so great a margin that there absolutely was no room for doubt as to the winner. Becker is formerly of New Orleans, and now if Fred Batche's Cincinnati stable of fighters. Becker has had 100 fights and has never been knocked out, let alone knocked off his feet.

WASHINGTON TEAM MAY TOUR EUROPE

Washington, April 18.—A visit to Europe for games in the principal cities of England, Ireland and France is in prospect for the Washington Americans next fall. According to plans being made by Ted Sullivan and sanctioned by President Griffith of the Washington club, the nationals and another major league club to be decided upon later, probably one of those in New York, will sail at the close of the season for a tour with games in London, Dublin, Cork, Paris and possibly Rome.

The Cherry Novelty Co. will give the bowler rolling high individual score this week, in the handicap tournament, one box of 50 Silk Ribbon cigars. Following are the scores rolled last night.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN APRIL 24 TO 28

The Y. M. C. A. financial canvass is set for the week of 24 to 28 of April.

The manufacturers who are especially interested in the industrial program of the local Y. M. C. A. are being solicited this week. It is the intention of the industrial committee to raise sufficient funds from the manufacturers and also from bleacher seats of the Twilight Base Ball league and from admission to the industrial basket ball league, the whole of which will cover the expenses of the Industrial Department of the local Y. M. C. A. This would include a full time Industrial Secretary, equip him with a small suitcase model movie machine and to carry on the base ball and basket ball leagues and such other activities as have been found practical.

A special List Committee will also be out this week and will see the larger subscribers to the local work.

The general public will be solicited the week of April 24 to 28 and it is hoped by that time reports of the manufacturers and the Special List Committee will be turned in.

CHINESE BOXER RETURNS.

San Francisco, April 18.—George Washington Lee, a California born Chinese boy, returned to this city yesterday on the steamer Nanking from China, where he holds the bantam and lightweight championships. Lee defeated every aspirant to those titles in the orient and now wants to meet unconvinced pugilists in the United States. Ancil Hoffman, Lee's manager who came with him, said a match had been arranged with Johnny Buff, bantamweight champion, in Grand Rapids, Mich.

TO MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS—
Being presented at The Auditorium this week (excepting today) is perhaps, the greatest, most expensive and by the most artistic achievement of D. W. Griffith on the Silver Screen
ORPHANS of the STORM
Adapted from D'Enery's "The Two Orphans."
You now have a chance to see this great picture with it's heart-throbs and its graphic simulation of the horrors and romance of the French Revolution, at prices far below what New York, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and others paid—the prices in these cities were far beyond the purse of those who believe that the way to prosperity is along the paths of economy and thrift.
Always anxious and eager to serve you with the greatest and best—I have brought this masterpiece to Newark and you are able to see it at CONSERVATIVE PRICES.
